The report was approved unanimously.

7. Communications from members

7.1. Medical University – Sofia: ASPHER Collaborating Centre proposal

Karolina Lyubomirova, Medical University – Sofia, Bulgaria reported on the Collaborating Centre proposal for Public Health Innovations at Sofia functioning to benefit the school agenda in Bulgaria and neighboring countries and the wider ASPHER Agenda. Sofia would also propose the Collaborating Centre to work as a base site for the ASPHER Human Rights in Patient Care (HRPC) programme coordination.

Henrique Barros, ISPUP, Portugal commented that it was an excellent idea to have an ASPHER Collaborating Centre initiative, but it still requires proper handling and details for integration into the ASPHER membership offer. Alena Petrakova, Palacky University Olomuc, Czech Republic supported HB's comment.

John Middleton summarized that ASPHER is agreement for a Collaborating Centre initiative, but there remained a need to develop a rational for operations and details. He suggested that Medical University - Sofia be considered a pilot programme for the initiative.

The pilot Collaborating Centre at Medical University - Sofia was approved unanimously.

7.2 National School of Public Health, Greece/University of West Attica

Elpida Pavi, Dean of SPH, University of West Attica, Greece reported on changes at the National School of Public Health in Athens Greece, which has been integrated into the University of West Attica.
